Prize Founders' Committee. The awarding of the Mitchell Prize is governed by the Mitchell Prize charter, established in 1999 (and available at the Mitchell Prize web site, http://www.stat.duke.edu/sites/mitchell.html). Under this charter, the sponsors annually establish a selection committee; the 2000 Prize selection committee members are Gary Koop, Henry Wynn and Mike West (chair).

To be eligible for the 2000 Prize, a paper will either have appeared in a refereed journal or refereed conference proceedings since January 1 1998, or be scheduled for future publication in a refereed outlet. Candidate papers will be accepted from nominators and from authors. In reviewing submissions, emphasis will be placed on evidence that the application has truly benefited from a Bayesian analysis respecting the individual character of the problem at hand. There is no restriction as to approach taken, except that it be Bayesian in some sense, and that it carefully and appropriately justifies models, priors and methodologies adopted. To be considered for this year's Prize, please submit the following:

- FOUR reprints or copies of the manuscript
- A cover letter, with two copies, containing the following elements:
  - A brief statement by the nominator describing the impact of the work in the applied field
  - Contact information for the authors and nominator (if not an author)
  - Full email and postal addresses, plus telephone numbers, for

TWO individuals who would be willing and able to credibly evaluate the usefulness of the work from the perspective of the applied field addressed in the paper, as distinct from providing comments on its statistical merit. The two named individuals may not be current or past coauthors or collaborators of authors of the nominated paper.

Submissions should be mailed to Mike West, Mitchell Prize Selection Committee Chair, Institute of Statistics & Decision Sciences, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0251 USA.

Entries must be received at this address by JANUARY 31st 2000 in order to receive consideration.
